

Inter^{DENVER}group Relations ^{POST} Meeting Set ^{3/10/70}

Members of the Southwest Intergroup Relations Council, Inc., will gather at the Continental Denver Motor Inn Friday and Saturday for their first annual meeting.

Guest speaker at a Friday luncheon will be Dr. Hector P. Garcia, a former ambassador to the United Nations and founder and national chairman of the American G. I. Forum. Speaking at a 7 p.m. banquet will be Dr. Paul Anthony, executive director of the Southern Regional Council.

Saturday's activities will include executive committee meetings and a second business session.

The theme for the meeting is "Social Action in the Seventies."

The group's purpose is to promote equality of opportunity for and mutual understanding, respect and cooperation among all the people and groups of the southwest.

It is a private, non-profit, educational and charitable agency with headquarters in Austin, Tex. Its members come from Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Utah.