Dear Dr. Garcia

Juan and I have good news. The manuscript, Grandchildren of the Revolution, is going to be published by Grupo Roer from Mexico, D.F. Grupo Roer has a private publishing company, Editorial Socrates E Impresora y Editora Xalco, SA. under the direction of Lic. Roberto Cortez. They do a lot of sub-contracting for the Secretaria de Educacion' Publica (SEP). The book will come out in paperback and will retail for $6.95 in the U.S. The first printing will be 5000 copies.

Juan and I are pleased because we had hoped that the book would be in paperback at an affordable price, rather than first coming out in hardback as most academic presses insist. Lic. Cortez wishes to publish it as soon as possible and we will be meeting with him April 15, 1983. This is very short notice for all of us, but because of the possibility of its being published by summer 1983, we are making the revisions as fast as we can.

For your part, if there are any final revisions you wish to make, would you please send them to me as soon as possible. Also, because we are not as limited in our illustrations as an academic press, we encourage you to send any photographs (up to three) that you might wish to see in the book. For most of you, Chale Nafus took slides of your family photos. But for those of you where we were not able to get family photos, we would greatly appreciate you sending us copies (black and white, non-returnable) of a few photographs that you would like to see published. You might think about how they would fit into your portion of the book.

The other good news is that Grupo Roer wishes to publish a Spanish version of the book. They are willing to do the translation. However, both Juan and I feel that the book will be more dialectically authentic if you will translate into Spanish your portions of the manuscript, as you would have said them in Spanish. The Spanish translation will be brought together as soon as the English version is out of the press. So this is to give you some advance time to prepare your portion in Spanish.

The book will be distributed through Calmecac Inc., a book distribution firm in which Juan is a partner. As a participant in the book, you will receive ten free copies.

If all goes well, there will be a publication party at which time, we hope to see you. Thank you for putting out this effort at such short notice.

Sinceramente,

Kay Sutherland
