Dear Dr. Garcia:

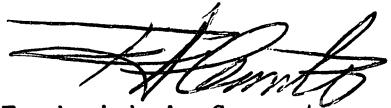

Because of your interest in education and the growing importance of Hispanics in our schools, we invite you to a special presentation of the findings from Make Something Happen: Hispanics and Urban High School Reform. This study, one of the first comprehensive analyses of Hispanics in urban schools, was developed by the National Commission on Secondary Education for Hispanics, Co-chaired by Mari-Luci Jaramillo, Dean of the College of Education of the University of New Mexico and Paul N. Ylvisaker, Dean Emeritus of the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

The presentation, which is being sponsored in Corpus Christi by the College of Arts and Humanities and the Office of Bilingual Education of Corpus Christi State University, Del Mar College and the Corpus Christi Association of Bilingual Education, will be in Warren Theatre at Corpus Christi State University at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, June 13th. Ms. Siobhon Oppenheimer-Nicolau, President of the project, Dr. Ray Valdivieso, Vice-President for Program and Research and Ms. Toni Breiter, Project Director of Media and Public Information, will make the presentation.

We hope you are able to attend this public meeting and become familiar with the findings now being disseminated nationally.

Sincerely,

David Berlanga,
