Dear Dr. Garcia:

What a joy it was to spend time with you! I come away from each of our meetings greatly inspired.

I very much appreciate your many kindnesses--the delicious dinner and your thoughtfulness and generosity in presenting me with the book. I read it on my return trip and, thus, gained an even greater understanding and appreciation for the many contributions made for service and country.

I trust that by the time you receive this, we will have had an opportunity to talk by telephone. It is imperative, however, that I take every opportunity to tell you how much I appreciate your strong ongoing support. It was good of you to give of your time which, I know, is so very limited. What a pleasure it was to meet your daughters, other members of your family, and your office staff. It is evident that each reflects the splendid philosophy of life which radiates from you.

Again, my deep appreciation. I look forward to seeing you soon. Meanwhile, I send my very best.

Sincerely,

ROBERT ARTER
