Dear Hector:

I have just read a copy of the "El Sol" Proclamation as published in Houston on December 5, 1975; and, was delighted and proud of the anniversary celebration in your honor. It is certainly well deserved, and I sincerely congratulate you. I wish I could have been in Houston on that day so as to have attended the festivities and join with those who paid tribute to your many services to your community, your country and your fellow human beings.

Hector, it has always been wonderful to be closely associated with you, and I look forward to our continuing to work shoulder to shoulder in the many enterprises in which we share a common interest.

Please give my kindest regards to your family and your associates, and I trust that you will soon be in the Austin area and that we will have time for a visit.

Sincerely yours,

Ben F. McDonald, Jr.
