Dear Mr. Hart:

I am sending you a copy of the letter I sent my cousin, Mr. Mo Garcia, concerning his action in saving the life of the East Indian girl.

As you know, Mo Garcia is the Bureau Chief for Time Magazine in Caracas Venezuela. The article I am referring to is in Time Magazine's issue of November 27, 1964, under the title of "A Letter to the Publisher."

I think the action of Mo is something that makes all feel proud. Knowing you, I am certain you feel the same way.

I thought that if you could write a little story about Mo Garcia, it would be very encouraging to all of our country.

In this area Mo lived with us in Mercedes, Texas, and worked in Brownsville, Texas for a long while. I believe he worked as a reporter and also with the city government.

Thank you for your kindness and attention. Please don't forget us.

Your friend As ever,

HECTOR P. GARCIA, M.D.
