To Dr. Hector Garcia
Leader of the Mexican H.I. Zorum Klan

Some people say you blew your stack Jew Nights ago when you were blasting the white man. They just don't know the habits of the Mexican like I do, its Nature for Mexicans to open their Big mouth especially when they can run & hide behind unche some coat tail. Gonzalez used to stick his tongue out at white men then run & hide behind Kennedy.
I was reared with Mexican people.

only when I was a kid they had a Mexican town & Mexican school.

Now lets get to the importance of Texas
you say its not worth fighting for.
that Depends on who is doing the fighting.
the Mexican Didn't feel Mexico was worth fighting for either when General Lamar marched all the way into Mexico city till Mr. Sam Houston told Lamar, come on back to Texas, we Don't need or want Mexico.

Mr. Hector you Don't need to worry about having to fight for Texas. Little Lyndon Bey seems to be doing a good job of giving it to you. Watch your temper, some of these quingoes might take you serious
& Mr. Houston isn't here to stop them -

YOURS TRULY Mr. Morris Beall

ON TRINITY HILL

Tuesday, April 19, 1966 -- 10:45 a.m.

Good morning. Here are news highlights from Trinity University's Skyline Campus on Trinity Hill.

Associated Press prize-winning photographs of 1965...and photographs from the Chicago SUN-TIMES...are on display this week in the foyer of the Ruth Taylor Music Center Concert Hall. The exhibit is open daily to the public...and will remain through the weekend when the South Texas Press Association meets on Trinity Hill.

A reunion of Trinity journalism graduates is planned for Saturday morning...also in connection with the South Texas Press Association meeting. The alumni will attend a Saturday morning session of the Association in the Chapman Graduate Center lecture auditorium...then attend a reception in the Ruth Taylor Music Center at 11 o'clock. The journalism alumni will join with the Association at 1 o'clock...for a luncheon in the new University Refectory. The South Texas Press Association is coming to Trinity Hill to help celebrate the Silver Anniversary of the Trinity journalism department.

Seven new members have been initiated into Blue Key...the honorary scholastic fraternity for junior and senior men. The seven includes two San Antonians...James Coleman of 1747 W. Huisache...and John Flournoy of 219 Springwood.

The manager of the Trinity University Bookstore...Dewey Buswell...is in Chicago this week, attending the 43rd National Association of College Stores convention. Buswell will appear on the program in a panel discussion entitled "The Orientation and Development of Store Personnel." Speakers at the convention this year include cartoonist Jules Feiffer...author and historian Eric F. Goldman...novelist Jerome Weidman...historian Henry Steele Commager...and Assistant Postmaster General Ralph W. Nicholson.

Trinity's Earl C. Sams Memorial Center is illustrated on the cover of the 1966 resource book...SCHOOLS CLASSIFIED...published by Educational Directories Inc. in Mount Prospect, Ill. The book lists some 7,000 colleges, universities, private and special schools under 53 classifications...and is compiled for school superintendents, guidance counselors, librarians and other academic offices.

Two of Trinity's art faculty are displaying paintings in the current Frost National Bank exhibit "Artists of Texas Past and Present." They are department Chairman Bill Bristow and part-time faculty member Cecil Casebier. The exhibit...on the lower level of the Frost Motor Bank...continues through mid-May.

And a junior from Grand Island, Neb., is featured as the student artist of the week in Trinity's Upstairs Gallery. The paintings of Jeannie Shell will be on display throughout the week in the gallery in the Ruth Taylor Art Building.

Professor Carlton Downing of the education department has been re-elected treasurer of the National Society for Programmed Instruction. Dr. Downing was first elected treasurer in 1965...and has twice served as president of the society. International headquarters of the NSPI is in the Chapman Graduate Center on the Trinity campus.

Future events on the Skyline Campus include a May 1st concert by the University Choir and Chamber Singers. Choirmaster Claude Zetty will direct both groups in the special late-spring concert to which the public is invited. And on May 6th...the Express Publishing Co. will conduct its annual Spelling Bee in the Earl C. Sams Memorial Center. More than 150 students are expected to enter the competition. On May 21st...175 lettermen and their dates from Highlands High School will come to Trinity Hill for their annual swimming party and picnic beginning at 10 a.m. Host for the affair will be the University department of health and physical education.

The final three performances of the Paul Baker Production of "The Imaginary Invalid" are scheduled for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings at 8:15 in the Trinity Attic Theater. Tickets may be reserved by telephoning the Attic Theater Box Office.

In sports news...the golf Tigers play St. Edward's University in Austin this afternoon...and the baseball Tigers play Pan American College at Christy Mathewson Field. The baseball game was postponed yesterday and will be played today at 3 o'clock.

This is David Burkett...and this is Tuesday's news from the University in the Sun...on Trinity Hill.
