Dear Dr. Garcia:

I am writing to ask if you might be able to take the time to write a letter of recommendation, which I will forward to several places that I am applying to for a job for this summer. I have decided to work in Washington, D.C. for a lobbying group of some type, but I need several recommendations from people I know or have worked for over the past few years to complete my application.

I am still attending The Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore where I am currently working toward my major in International Relations. The internships which I am applying for will play an important role in my education for they will allow a first hand view of the process of government.

In case you do not remember me, I am a friend of your nephew Robert Garcia, and I helped you last summer when you travelled to Dallas to speak at the commencement address at Southwestern Medical School.

Thank you so much for your time and attention. Best of luck with all your current projects, and I hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,
