The members of our staff, Workshop Coordinator Mr. James C. McClure, and I fully realize that the degree of success attained would not have been possible without your outstanding professional contribution as one of our intergovernmental agency consultants. Another group of new EET's and EOS will come aboard regionally in the immediate future. The Region will once again provide formal basic training for these people.

Please report to the Regional Office at 8:30 a.m. on Monday, March 8, planning to work for one week on modifying the training program you previously developed. Bring such materials from your office as you believe may be useful to the project.

Dear Mr. Salinas:

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the orientation regarding your agency's overall mission and responsibilities given to Ms. Sandra K. Campbell, Civil Rights Trainee. The training provided by you and your staff was most informative and exposed Ms. Campbell to still another aspect of the government's overall Civil Rights/EEO programs.

Again, thank you for your courtesy and cooperation in this matter. Should we be in a position to assist you in the future please call me.

Judging by comments received from members of the public who participated in the "Houston Seminar," it was a most successful and well-received activity. I know that your participation was most important to that affirmative response.

I very much appreciate your participation and help.
Thank you.

Congratulations!

SUBJECT: My Appreciation for your help

Thank you very much for your participation in this region's audit in the Houston District during the week of July 28. Both the region's compliance coordinator and several Houston personnel commented upon your industry, attention to business, and general hard work and cooperation.

Preliminary conversations with Ms. Howell indicate that the Houston audit will have been most beneficial to our operation. Clearly, from what she has said, your participation added much to the useful results. Thank you.

If you would, you can add still more to the audit's usefulness as a basis for future audits. Please prepare a memorandum to me, giving your specific advice as to what we might do to make future audits better and more efficient, based upon your Houston experience. I deliberately leave this request vague so as to avoid setting boundaries on whatever you may recommend. Naturally, the earlier I can receive your recommendations, the better.

Again, thank you for your help. It will have immediate and long range impact.

Dear Mr. Salinas,

I want to thank you for taking time from your busy schedule last Thursday to be a seminar leader at our Regional Personnel Managers' Meeting.

Your presentation was most interesting and informative. Our people mentioned to me that your visit was a highlight of the three day meeting. Your involvement in the discussions which developed helped all of us gain a better understanding of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

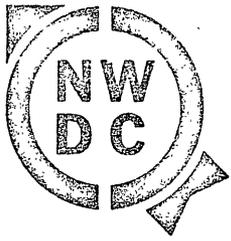

Thank you, once again, for participating in our meeting.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Salinas:

I apologize for the belated enthusiastic thank you for your participation in the Southern Methodist University Seminar held March 4-5, 1974.

I had an opportunity to speak with each participant and I received unanimous praise with regard to your presentation. Everyone was enthusiastic about the image of a Government official which you personified. They made remarks such as, "It's refreshing to hear someone talk about what the law provides in non-threatening tones;" "The information given to us has been extremely informative;" "Gosh, I wish I had known about those matters earlier, and I wish all Government officials were as courteous, knowledgeable and helpful as Mr. Salinas."

I wish to express my warm and deep appreciation, along with others, for your extremely helpful participation.

It is these kinds of endeavors and presentations which help close the information gap, and reduce some of the polarized attitudes between those responsible for enforcing the requirements set forth under the law and the business community affected thereby.

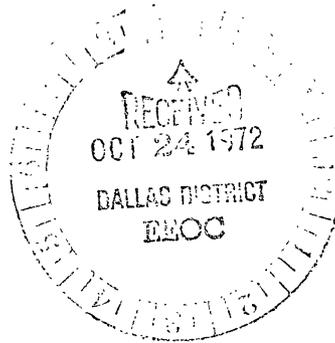

Kindest regards,
