Dear Hector,

I am enclosing some papers from Guadalajara that show pictures of the damage at Ciudad Guzman. I thought you might like to see them. I was disappointed that I could find no mention in the Guadalajara press of assistance being received from Corpus Christi. I was told at the Inter American Press Association meeting in Colombia, from which I have just returned, that the Mexican press generally is very reluctant to credit either private or public American acts of assistance.

Your friend,

Edward H. Harte
