Dear Friend:

I am rushing on to you the enclosed report I have received from the Veterans Administration, San Antonio, further regarding Mr. Abelardo Hilario's claim in which you have expressed an interest. After you have had a chance to review Mr. Sherry's communication, if you feel that Mr. Hilario should receive more than two treatments a month in connection with his foot condition, it is my suggestion that you let me have any additional data you wish to submit and I shall follow through on it, in an effort to be of all additional assistance possible.

With continued good wishes, I am,

Sincerely,

Lyndon B. Johnson

My dear Friend:

I have been getting a great many letters from Texas during the past two weeks, but I can tell you there isn't one I received that I appreciated more than the one you wrote me on May 11th.

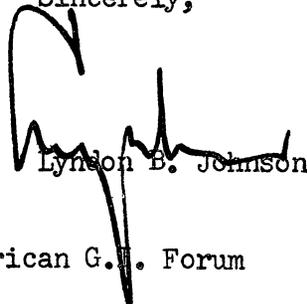

I am grateful for your congratulations. I am grateful for all that you and my other friends did to make this great victory possible. Your personal friendship and loyal support have meant much to me through the years--and never more than now.

Your suggestion about the Texas Delegation to Chicago is one that greatly appeals to me. I will have it in mind.

Your kind invitation to address either your National Convention or the Texas Convention is deeply appreciated. I would like to go to the Colorado meeting if I can get away from my work here. How much time do I have to give a decision?

Thank you, my friend, for more things than I can list.

Sincerely,

Lyndon B. Johnson
