RE: Story for Impact, UTMB newsletter

Enclosed are the article I have prepared for use in the alumni section of Impact and the printed materials which you sent me. Your photograph is being copied and will be returned to you at a later date.

You are welcome to review the article I have written and make any corrections or changes you feel needed. Please mark these on the manuscript and return to me. I have, by necessity of space restrictions, had to condense much of the information and simply list the major organizations honoring you, there have been so many. Your news stories make fascinating, inspirational reading for caring people of all faiths and ethnic backgrounds. You truly have the makings of a book or a television documentary.

Thank you for your help in sharing your story with Impact readers.
