Dear Doctor:

As a valued member of the Corpus Christi medical community, I would like to extend an invitation to you, and a guest, to attend a special educational dinner program featuring Subir Roy, M.D., with the University of Southern California School of Medicine, speaking on "New Concepts in the Treatment of Sexually Transmitted Diseases." Hoechst Pharmaceutical is sponsoring this program specially for the Obstetrician/Gynecologists and Family Practice physicians in the Coastal Bend on Thursday, Jan. 14, in the Cloverleaf Conference Room at Spohn. Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m., with dinner and the program beginning at 7 p.m.

Dr. Roy is an associate professor in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at U.S.C. School of Medicine and on the staff at Women's Hospital in Los Angeles. A graduate of North Carolina College of Medicine, he is board certified in OB/GYN and in the subspecialties of reproductive endocrinology and infectious diseases. He has published extensively, both in the U.S. and Europe.

We will serve a buffet dinner prior to Dr. Roy's presentation and hope you can join us for this interesting and informative program. Please RSVP to 881-3271. I look forward to seeing you there.

Sincerely,

Adam McNitzky, M.D.
Chairman, OB/GYN Dept.
