

PRESIDENT'S
COMMISSION ON WHITE HOUSE FELLOWSHIPS
THE WHITE HOUSE

October 3, 1977

Dear Dr. Garcia:

There is a very unique opportunity for you to identify some of the future leaders of this country. The White House Fellowships provide a small number of highly qualified young persons from a variety of professions with a rare experience few persons at their level of maturity can have. Your assistance in helping to identify truly outstanding individuals to apply is essential for the continued success which the White House Fellows program has had. If one of your nominees is successful, he or she will be able most likely to work directly with a member of the President's cabinet, the Vice President, or with a key assistant to the President.

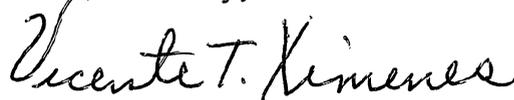

If you would, please review in your mind and list some of the young leaders early in their career development who could most profit from this experience and be of greater service in their mature years. Ask them to apply. We will be pleased to send you more brochures with applications included.

This can be an opportunity for you to help identify and encourage part of a new generation of leadership.

For more brochures or other specific information, please write or telephone the Commission's Director, Landis Jones, President's Commission on White House Fellowships, Washington, D.C. 20415, (202) 653-6263. The deadline for requesting additional applications is November 15. The deadline for receipt of completed applications is December 1.

I appreciate your consideration of my request.

Sincerely,

Vicente T. Ximenes
