Dear Dr. García:

On behalf of The University of Texas - Pan American Library and the Rio Grande Valley Historical Collection, I would like to thank you for providing the library with one (1) photocopy of the "Humanitarian Operation - Las Colonias" report (no date). This report was given to the library on your behalf by Hugo Huerta and it is a most welcomed addition to the Rio Grande Valley Historical Collection. This document reflects the health and living conditions inside Rio Grande Valley Colonias.

Indeed, because of the anticipated demand for this title over the years by the students and faculty of UT-PA, as well as the public patrons who also make use of our collection, I would very much appreciate a second copy of this report for our library. The Rio Grande Valley Historical Collection attempts to obtain two (2) copies of all titles which it owns. Copy one is used as a reference copy and copy two serves as a circulating copy which patrons may check out and take home with them.

Your material will be housed in the Rio Grande Valley Historical Collection which is made up of material pertaining to the geographic area from Laredo to Corpus Christi, Texas south to Ciudad Victoria, Tamaulipas and Monterrey, Nuevo León, México. Indeed, many of your sister's, Dr. Clotilde García, publications are a part of the Rio Grande Valley Historical Collection.

Gifts such as yours have a meaningful impact on our academic programs. Your interest enables the Library to expand and improve its holdings for the benefit of our students, faculty, and public.

Also, the Rio Grande Valley Historical Collection would very much appreciate being added to your mailing list to receive any additional materials which you feel would benefit researchers who make use of the resources at The University of Texas - Pan American Library as well as the Rio Grande Valley Historical Collection.

Thank you for your interest in The University of Texas - Pan American Library and the Rio Grande Valley Historical Collection.

Sincerely,

George R. Cause, Jr.
Curator,
