Commission For The Study Of International Migration And Cooperative Economic Development

July 31, 1990

Hector P. Garcia Chairman, National Archives & Historical Foundation 1315 Bright Street Corpus Christi, TX 78405

Dear Mr. Garcia:

The Commission released its official report, "Unauthorized Migration: An Economic Development Response", to the President and Congress in Washington, D.C. on Tuesday July 24, 1990. Chairman Diego C. Asencio and Commissioner John Bryant testified on the Commission's findings and recommendations before a full hearing of the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Foreign Affairs.

In the United States Senate, Senators Kennedy, Simpson, Pell and Cranston participated in an afternoon press conference in the Senate Committee on the Judiciary's hearing room. Senator Cranston announced his introduction of legislation following a major recommendation of the Commission.

I thought you would be interested in receiving a complete set of Commission documents. Enclosed is the Commission's official report, research and hearing volumes.

Our three-year study and consultations with the governments of the Western Hemisphere have resulted in this unprecedented report which we believe offers this country long-term solutions to the problem of unauthorized migration.

Sincerely

Diane Gonzalez
