Dear Dr. Garcia:

Thank you for the materials you mailed to me recently. I appreciate your having brought the information to my attention, and I hope to be able to consider it carefully at an early date.

I believe America must provide a quality education in its public schools so that every child, regardless of the income of his parents, can receive an excellent education. In order to achieve this, our schools need the support of all Americans. And we must support not only our local schools but also those in areas of greatest educational need.

Thank you again for your interest in writing me.

Sincerely,
