Dear Dr. Hector:

I want to express my genuine appreciation for your letter of October 15 and for your kind remarks therein regarding my efforts to be of service.

I was glad that we could discuss on long-distance several matters which, I agree with you, are extremely important to the Administration as well as to the political picture at State level; and I have done what I could toward focusing proper attention on your recommendations. I certainly hope this effort will prove fruitful.

In your letter of the 15th you mention your desire for information on "Gold Star" mothers and on the national cemetary situation. I believe the information I gave you on the telephone regarding "Gold Star" mothers was what you needed on that matter; and if there is something additional I can provide, please let me hear from you. In my letter to you of September 15 I set out in considerable detail the status and practical problems with which we are confronted in securing any national cemeteries. The status of that matter is unchanged since I wrote you; and for the reasons stated at that time, I see no basis for optimism that any expansion of the National Cemetary Program can be secured in the foreseeable future. In my letter of September 15 I also set out considerable information on burial allowances for deceased veterans and on costs assumed in connection with burial of servicemen killed while in the service of their country. I will appreciate your letting me know if I can secure anything additional for you on these or other subjects.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

John Young
