Dear Dr. Garcia:

Just a note to thank you for the courtesy you extended to me during my visit with you August 23. On August 24, I went to the archives at CCSU where I received another royal welcome. I found the collection most impressive. I hope to return as time permits and as I narrow my topic to a manageable one.

I hope to send you a copy of my Houston book when it is released next month. You will see that John J. Herrera and Felix Tijerina receive the credit they deserve. Perhaps some other historian can do a similar work for Corpus Christi, San Antonio, the Valley towns, and give credit to those leaders of the generation to which you belong.
