or itser Spetlight

Vice Chairman of Council Cites Problems of Youth "The main problems in the Air Force today are youth oriented- Project Volunteer, drug abuse, race relationsthese are the issues in the Age of Aquarius, and the Junior Officer Council (JOC) has to act as a liaison between youth and the establishment to try and solve these problems. That's what the JOC at Randolph hopes to do."

in San Antonio,

Base

Randolph Air Force

at

the Air Force Academy

has

where he

point

a

got to To a no

stuck,

When

is he has been doing

started

to call him

officially

it

"Trenton" and

So says 1st Lt. Jeff Trenton, JOC vice chairman, who has been active in JOC affairs since he joined in September 1970.

Lieutenant Trenton was responsible for initiating the Prisoner of War-Missing in Action (POW-MIA) campaign sponsored by the Randolph JOC. He also helped to organize JOC assistance to the Los Amigos Kindergarten Schertz and helped to plan JOC trips to the U.S. Air Force Academy and Cape Kennedy.

The lieutenant is from Forest Hills, N.Y., where he attended high school through his junior year. His senior year was speni at the American School of Lima, Peru.

In high school he was editor of the school paper and member of the U.S. Junior Olympic Fencing Team.

AFA AFOINTMENT Lieutenant Trenton attended Queens College, City University of New York, for two years before receiving an appointment to the U.S. Air Force Academy, where he graduated in 1969 with a BS degree in international affairs economics. and

While at the Academy, he was a three-year letterman on the fencing team and was on the Academy team that won the Western Intercollegiate Fen-Championship three consecutive years. He spent the summer of 1968 in Chile as an exchange cadet and another summer in Japan under the Academy's Third Lieutenant Program.

Lieutenant Trenton presently a candidate for an Olmstead Scholarship award which allows recipients to study in a foreign university for two years.

His hobbies include writing, flying, tennis and travel. He has been involved in paraduting

IST LT. JEFF TRENTON been involved in parachuting and skindiving, and once hunted alligators on the Amazon River. However, he says his most harrowing experiences have occurred while selling electric trains at Macy's department store in New York City during the Christmas rush. Lieutenant Trenton is an honor graduate Management Analysis School the at Sheppard AFB, Tex., and is assigned as a management analyst with the deputy chief of Comptroller, Headquarters Air Training

The lieutenant is now working on a master's degree economics at Trinity University.